

THE EVERYDAY HEALTH RESET

Simple Habits for Food, Movement, Hydration, Rest, and Family Life

EAT WELL. MOVE MORE.
LIVE BETTER. ♥

Healthy habits today...
a brighter tomorrow.

Written by
Ernest Konyi Chie

Simple ideas for real everyday life.

“You cannot remove every stressful thing from life. But you can learn how to respond to it in a healthier way.”

Inside This Guide

What is health?

A simple guide to the basics.

Healthy food

What to eat and what to enjoy less.

Stay hydrated

Why fluids matter and how to make it easy.

Move your body

Simple ways to be more active.

Rest and recover

Better sleep and less stress.

Family life

Healthy habits that fit your real life.

Your 7-day reset

Small steps, real progress.

Small changes.
Big improvements.
A healthier you. ♥

COPYRIGHT & HEALTH NOTICE

© 2026 Ernest Konyi Chie.

All rights reserved.

No part of this book may be reproduced or distributed without the author's written permission, except for brief quotations or uses allowed by applicable copyright law.

Book purpose

This book is an original educational wellness guide. It is not a diagnosis or treatment plan and does not replace personalised medical advice. This book is designed to help you make small, practical changes for better health and wellbeing.

Important health notice

If you have a health condition, take medication, have special dietary needs, or are unsure whether an activity is suitable for you, speak with a qualified healthcare professional.

Further reading

- NHS Eatwell Guide
- NHS balanced-diet guidance
- WHO physical-activity guidance

Better choices today for a healthier tomorrow. ♥

About the Author

Ernest Konyi Chie

Ernest Konyi Chie is a father of three who understands that health and wellbeing are part of everyday life.

His journey has included moving from one country to another, starting a new life without relatives or close friends nearby, working night shifts to support his family, and still caring for his children and handling family responsibilities during the day.

Like many parents, he has experienced long days, tired mornings, bills, family needs and the pressure of trying to build a better future while still looking after himself.

These experiences inspired him to create short, practical guides using simple words and realistic habits. The aim is not perfection. It is to help people make small changes they can actually keep.

“Taking care of yourself is part of being able to keep showing up for the people you love. ♥”

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Ernest Konyi Chie

Ernest Konyi Chie is a father of three who understands that health and wellbeing are part of everyday life.

His journey has included moving from one country to another, starting a new life without relatives or close friends nearby, working night shifts to support his family, and still caring for his children and handling family responsibilities during the day.

Like many parents, he has experienced long days, tired mornings, bills, family needs and the pressure of trying to build a better future while still looking after himself.

These experiences inspired him to create short, practical guides using simple words and realistic habits. The aim is not perfection. It is to help people make small changes they can actually keep.

“Taking care of yourself is part of being able to keep showing up for the people you love.”

Small changes make a big difference

Family. Health. A brighter tomorrow.

What you'll find inside

- ✓ Practical ideas you can use every day.
- ✓ Simple habits for better health and wellbeing.
- ✓ Real-life tips for food, movement, hydration, rest and family life.
- ✓ Gentle encouragement to help you keep going.

Better habits today,
healthier tomorrows.

Small steps.
Big changes.

Better habits start with you.

1. HEALTH DOES NOT HAVE TO BE COMPLICATED

Good health can begin with simple habits: varied food, regular movement, enough fluids, sleep and time to recover.

Start with one habit

Choose something realistic. Repeat it until it feels normal, then add another.

Why it works

- ✓ Builds confidence.
- ✓ Creates healthy routines.
- ✓ Puts you in control.
- ✓ Helps you feel better, faster.

Progress,
not perfection.

Eat Well

Choose fresh, whole foods most of the time. Include fruit, vegetables, whole grains and lean protein.

Good food
fuels your life.

Move More

Stay active in ways you enjoy — walking, cycling, dancing or simple daily movement.

Movement
boosts your energy.

Drink Water

Keep a bottle nearby and drink regularly throughout the day.

Hydration keeps you going.

Rest Well

Get enough sleep and give your mind and body time to recover.

Better rest, better you.

Family Life

Spend time together, share healthy habits and support each other.

Healthy families
build stronger futures.

Small habits today
lead to a healthier tomorrow.

You don't have to change everything.
Just start with one simple step.

2. BUILD A BALANCED PLATE

The NHS Eatwell Guide recommends a variety of fruit and vegetables, starchy foods, protein foods, dairy or alternatives, and small amounts of unsaturated oils and spreads.

Healthy food fuels happy lives.

Keep it simple

- ✓ Choose different colours of fruit and vegetables.
- ✓ Pick higher-fibre starchy foods where possible.
- ✓ Choose protein foods such as beans, pulses, fish, eggs, meat or suitable alternatives.
- ✓ Foods high in fat, salt and sugar are best kept less often and in smaller amounts.

A balanced plate helps you get the nutrients your body needs, gives you steady energy and supports your long-term health.

Good food.
Real energy.

Stay hydrated,
feel better,
live brighter.

3. DRINK REGULARLY

Fluids are part of everyday wellbeing. Water is a simple choice, and other drinks can contribute to daily fluid intake.

Make it easy

- ✓ Keep a bottle or glass nearby and drink regularly.
- ✓ Your needs can vary with activity, weather and health.
- ✓ Follow any personalised fluid advice you have been given.

Water helps your brain, your body and your energy levels.

Choose water when you can.

Water

Sports drinks
(after exercise)

Herbal tea

Milk

Fruit juice
(in moderation)

Why it matters

Supports brain function and concentration.

Keeps your body working well, including your heart and kidneys.

Helps with energy levels and reduces tiredness.

Supports your immune system and overall health.

Aids digestion and helps prevent constipation.

Keep a water bottle with you and make it your habit.

Hydrate your body.
Fuel your life.

Move more.
Feel stronger.
Live longer.

Move your body.
Boost your mood.

4. MOVE MORE

Walking, cycling, dancing, sport, active travel and household activity all count as movement. WHO recommends adults aim for 150–300 minutes of moderate activity each week, or an equivalent amount of vigorous activity, plus muscle-strengthening activities on 2 or more days.

Start small

If you are not active now, begin with short, comfortable movement and build gradually.

- ✓ Take the stairs instead of the lift.
- ✓ Go for short walks.
- ✓ Try a simple home workout.
- ✓ Find an activity you enjoy.

Small steps make big progress.

Healthy habits today, stronger
tomorrow.

Different ways to move

Walking

Simple, free and effective.

Cycling

Great for heart and lungs.

Dancing

Fun and boosts mood.

Sport

Builds strength and stamina.

Active travel

Walk, cycle or use public transport.

Household activity

Keeps you active at home.

Muscle-strengthening

Use body weight, resistance bands or light weights (2+ days per week).

Movement
doesn't have to be hard — it just has to be part of your life.

5.

GOOD HABITS VS THINGS TO AVOID

Small daily choices can either move you towards better health or make it harder to feel your best. Here's a simple comparison to help you choose habits that support your body and mind.

THINGS YOU CAN DO

Simple habits for a healthier, happier you.

Eat nutritious foods

Choose fresh foods, fruits, vegetables, lean proteins and whole grains.

Drink enough water

Keep a bottle nearby and sip water regularly.

Move your body

Find activities you enjoy like walking, cycling or dancing.

Get enough rest

Aim for quality sleep and give your mind time to recover.

Spend quality time

Connect with family and friends. A strong support system improves wellbeing.

THINGS TO AVOID

Habits that can harm your health over time.

Too much junk food

Limit foods high in sugar, salt and unhealthy fats.

Sugary drinks

Avoid or reduce fizzy drinks, energy drinks and excessive caffeine.

Sitting for too long

Try not to stay in one position for extended periods.

Excessive stress

Avoid overworking and take breaks. Learn to manage stress.

Poor sleep habits

Avoid late nights, excessive screen time and irregular sleep patterns.

YOUR HEALTH, YOUR CHOICE

Every day gives you a new opportunity to make better choices. It's not about being perfect — it's about doing a little better each day.

Small changes add up to big results.

The Everyday Health Reset

Simple Habits for Food, Movement, Hydration, Rest, and Family Life

Healthy People
Build Happy Homes ♥

9.

QUICK RECAP

Here's a quick reminder of the key things to keep in mind:

EAT WELL

Choose real, fresh foods. Eat more fruits, vegetables, lean protein and whole grains. Less junk, more nutrients.

MOVE MORE

Walk, stretch, dance or do a workout. Keep your body strong and active.

STAY HYDRATED

Drink water throughout the day. It helps your brain, body and energy.

GET GOOD REST

Aim for 7–9 hours of quality sleep. It helps your mood, memory and health.

MANAGE STRESS

Take breaks, breathe, do what you enjoy. A calm mind supports a healthy body.

SPEND TIME WITH FAMILY

Good relationships bring joy, support and a longer, healthier life.

You've Got This! ♥

Small changes may seem simple, but they make a big difference.

You don't have to be perfect.

Just start where you are.

Be kind to yourself, keep going, and remember...

A healthier you builds a brighter future!

Better choices

More energy

Less stress

Happier life

Your health matters.
Today is a great day
to make a change!

About the Author

Ernest Konyi Chie

I'm a father of three. I've been through a lot — from moving to different countries, starting a new life in a new country with no family or friends, working night shifts to support my family, and taking care of my kids during the day after working nights.

Through these experiences, I learned that good health isn't just about living longer, it's about living better.

That's why I created this guide — to help you make simple, healthy choices, every day. ♥

Copyright Information

The Everyday Health Reset
© 2025 by Ernest Konyi Chie.
All rights reserved.

This ebook is for personal use only. No part of this publication may be reproduced, distributed, or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior written permission of the author.

Thank you! ♥

